HOW DOUGLAS STOOD.

A. L. Williams is having a barrel of fun with his anti expansion Democratic friends. He allows them to run along with their argument until they declare, as they all do, that they are "Douglas Democrats." Then he goes after them. He quotes the following from the speech of Stephen A. Douglas, delivered at Freeport, Ill., in his debate with Abraham Lincoln in 1858:

"In less than fifteen years, if the same progress that has distinguished this country continues, every foot of vacant land between this and the Pacific ocean, owned by the United States, will be occupied. Will you not continue to increase at the end of fifteen years as well as now?"

"I tell you, increase, and multiply, and expand, is the law of this nation's existence. You cannot limit this great republic by mere boundary lines, saying 'thus far shalt thou go, and no further.' 'Any of you gentlemen might as well say to a son 12 years old that he is big enough, and must not grow any larger, and in order to prevent his growth put a hoop around him to keep him to his present size. What would be the result? Either the hoop must burst and be rent asunder or the child must die. So it would be with this great nation."

"With our natural increase, growing with a rapidity unknown to any other part of the globe, with the tide of emigration that is fleeing from despotism in the old world to seek refuge in our own, there is a constant torrent pouring into our country that requires more land, more territory, upon which to settle, and just as fast as our interests and our destiny require additional territory in the north, in the south or in the islands of the ocean, I am for it."

Profit in Broom Corn.

Arcola Record: A very practical farmer near Arcola has made an itemized report of the cost of raising his crop of broomcorn this season, allowing $5 per acre for the use of his land, a reasonable allowance for the use of teams and implements, including boarding, $1.25 and $1.50 a day for harvesting, the expense of marketing, and every other little incidental expense being carefully kept and counted, allowing three acres to produce a ton of broom, (and his crop made more than that) and the net cost to him of raising a ton of broomcorn and marketing was $37.56. He sold his crop for $62.50 per ton, giving him a net profit of $24.94 per ton, or $8.31 per acre. In other words according to his calculation, an acre produced $20.84 worth of broom, and deducting the rent, the expense was $7.52 per acre, leaving $13.32 per acre for the use of his land. Had he received $80 per ton for his crop, his net profit would have been $42.44 per ton, or $14.15 per acre. Or in other words, his land would have yielded him $26.67 worth of broom, deducting expense of raising, harvesting and marketing, $7.52, he would have $19.15 per acre for the use of his land.

Funston as a Student.

The fact that a few weeks or months may suffice to bring about great changes in the lives and fortunes of individual men has been abundantly illustrated during the Spanish-American and Philippine wars. Gen. Fredrick Funston is more talked about today than any other man connected with the Philippine campaign, and received, during his recent sojourn in his native state, a great many attractive business propositions. Yet it was but a few years ago that he was an unheard of student in the Kansas State University, and having a hard time to make ends meet. In looking over some old class records recently, Prof. Caruth of the University found the words: "Find job for Funston," penned on the fly-leaf of his class book. He had written them there some twelve years ago, when Funston, then just entering the University, applied to him for work. The incident recalls the fact that Funston made a fair record as a student, and also that he did "find a job" carrying papers while in school. Today every issue of the paper which he then carried has his name in its headlines and editorials, and the sum that has been offered him for a few magazine articles would be sufficient to buy the whole newspaper establishment. Such would seem to be the favoritism of fate; but it is not every man that has in him the stuff of which heroes are made.

EAST END NOTES.

From the Spearville News, Dec. 1.

—B. F. Bixby reports the sale, this week, of a quarter section of land near Wright, to E. B. Wells of Cass county, Mo. Mr. Wells will move onto the land in the spring.

—A. H. Graham, of Burlingame, Kansas, was here a few days ago looking for land. He will probably return soon and locate in this vicinity.

—One of Mr. Perkins' little boys had a leg fractured yesterday by getting it caught in a buggy wheel. Dr. Hawley was called to attend the little sufferer.

—J. M. Salmon and family, of Dennison, Ohio, who have been looking over Oklahoma are visiting at W. H. English's. They are looking for a location.

—Mrs. Meier, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wiesse. Mrs. Meier was about 81 years old. She came here from Iowa in June. Interment takes place to day at the Spearville cemetery.

—We understand that Mr. Perkins has bought a half section of land near Mr. Wentz. His purchase includes his old home which he sold several years ago when he left here.

—The township board of Spearville township met in regular session and decided not to pay over $1.25 a day for man or $2.50 a day for a man and team for all work done by the township, instead of $3.00 a day as heretofore. This will take effect from date of its publication in the Spearville News. By order of the Board, Fred Wiedower, Tp. Clerk.

—The following clipping from an Alva, Okla., paper was handed us by W. H. Van Voorhis.

H. M. Clark died very suddenly Wednesday morning in the county attorney's office, where he had been stopping for several months. He had been sick for several days and with a weakened constitution he easily succumbed to heart failure, the immediate cause of his death. His remains were buried yesterday in accordance with the rites of the Masonic Order in the presence of a number of friends. He has brothers and a sister somewhere in the east. Mr. Clark was respected and admired by all who knew him. He was a man of strict integrity, of good judgment and a high refinement. He has resided in Alva since the opening and his presence will be missed by all.

Mr. Clark was a former resident of Spearville and will be remembered by all of the old settlers.

Dr. Clark was one of the early settlers of Ford county, and he took an active part in the affairs of the county. He was a straight forward man and was well liked by every one. A few years ago he moved to Oklahoma to better his fortune. He was never married.

Mrs. Matilda Cochran got up in her sleep and her night clothes at Winfield the other night and walked nearly a mile through a pelting rain before she was awakened. The singular feature of the affair is that her folks are utterly unable to discover how she got out of the house. Every door was found locked and no window had been opened.

M. E. CHURCH.—Regular services next Sunday, morning and evening. Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. 7:30 p. m. Class meeting 12 m. Junior League 3 p. m. Epworth League 6:15 p. m. W. E. WEAVER, Pastor.

RAILROAD NEWS.

—Two large engines for the Mexico Central passed here Saturday.

—J. H. Conrad, who injured his finger a few weeks, resumed his work in the round house Monday morning.

—Chas. E. Gallagher, who is at Hot Springs for treatment for his eyes, is reported to be getting better.

—It is said that the Kansas railroad men do not want to go to work if their path is crossed by a black cat.

—Mrs. Riley, wife of Conductor Riley, writes to Mrs. J. C. Baird that she enjoys her new home in Denver, but she much prefers to live in Dodge City.

—Harry Morrow, formerly blacksmith at the round house, is employed as tinner by the Zimmermann Hardware Co. Mr. Morrow is an experienced workman.

A new passenger ticket system will be inaugurated on the Santa Fe road proper January 1. On that date the sale of present style tickets will be discontinued, and the Thrall simplex tickets will be placed in use. The Thrall simplex tickets are something new in railroad passenger business. They are now in use on the Chicago and Northwestern road, and have proven wholly satisfactory. They are designed especially to prevent manipulation, and it is for this reason that the Santa Fe passenger department decided to adopt them.

The pooling of engines has been discontinued on the Rio Grande and New Mexico Divisions of the Santa Fe. It is believed that this is the forerunner of the abolishment of the pooling system. Its adoption was on the ground that considerably more engine service would result. Engineers ceased to have regular engines, and took any that might be assigned them when called for various runs. Slight repairs necessary on engines seem to constitute the particular trouble. Under the present system engineers simply report necessary repairs to engines at division points and it is attended to by the shop force.—La Junta Tribune.

FORD ITEMS.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—Mr. Geddis, accompanied with his daughter and her husband, has returned from his Ohio visit.

—J. D. Sweeney returns to his Santa Fe labors after a two weeks healthy recuperation with Ford friends.

—Our teachers spent Thanksgiving at their homes—Miss Motz at Offerle and Miss Summersby at Dodge City.

—L. C. Mann west of Ford was one of the many farmers waiting for his turn for a load at S. D. Aull's lumber yard Saturday.

—Mrs. O. N. Nevins enjoyed a week's pleasant visit from Mrs. Sam Connaway, who returned to her home in Dodge City Monday.

—Sandy Guerin, wife and child went to Hutchinson Saturday, for a few days visit, he returning and the rest going to Parcell, Oklahoma.

—The Ford schools had a vacation from Wednesday till Monday, allowing the teachers delicious Thanksgiving indulgence to be unbounding.

—Agent Elland in his professor's robes is doing good work in the instruction of his large class in vocal music. This is a long needed want at Ford—instruction in vocal music.

—Rev. Mrs. F. C. Williams from the east is holding a series of meetings at the Congregational church. Her sermons are highly appreciated by good audience. Her sermon Sunday evening, "Doing our best," was very impressive to the large audience.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by W. F. Pine, Druggist.

The Rock Island Wall Map of the United States

Is the best offered to the public. It is very large and specially adapted to school purposes. Every teacher of geography and every business office should have one. It will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of fifteen cents in postage stamps or coin. Address, JOHN SEBASTIAN, G. P. A., Chicago, Ill.

FORD DODGE ITEMS.

Thanksgiving day was a typical March day, inasmuch that the wind blew a gale from the northwest and the sand blew its very best. But we braced up and sailing close in the wind's eye tacking and filling we reached the school house without losing a rag. The school children were out in full force and behaved with the utmost decorum, largely due to the excellent management of Prof. M. L. Catlett, the Superintendent. The exercises commenced promptly at 10 a. m., and the following program was performed:

Song—Audience—organist Ruth Stoddard. Invocation—Rev. E. Collins. Reading of Scriptures—Prof. Catlett. Origin of Thanksgiving—Emma Johnson. Song—Call for the Reapers—choir. President's Thanksgiving Proclamation—Cordelia Barr. Recitation—Pearl Millard. Recitation—Maybelle Davidson, Governor's Proclamation—Blanche Carpenter. Song, The Dustman—Primary pupils. Recitation—Anna Reynolds. Recitation—Florence Nally. Recitation (in German)—Emma Miller. Recitation—Red, White and Blue—audience. Recitation—Rena Lockwood. Recitation—Blanche Nally. Recitation—Serena Barr. Recitation—Emma Wheeler. Song—Rock-a-By—Blanche Nally, Ange Malloee. Recitation—Laura Johnson. Recitation—Murry Clark. Recitation—Bessie Boyd. Song, 6th and 7th grade class. Recitation—George Cumbuck. Recitation—Earl Evans. Recitation—Edith Todd. Song, On to the Harvest—choir. Recitation—Anna Johnson. Anthem—choir. Recitation—Viola Millard. Recitation—Ira Malloee. Doxology. Benediction.

At the close of the entertainment we left for home with the wind right aft, scudding under bare poles, with just enough canvas to keep storage way.

When we got into port all hands were piped to mess. We had no salt horse, spuds nor moons, nor plum duff; but we did have turkey and pumpkin pie and apple pie—none of your dried up wormy dried apples but real genuine apples. We had lots of other good things to eat and some left over for another day.

Our mind reverted back to sixty years ago, when we ate so much turkey and stuffing—dressing they call it now—that we wanted no more turkey. But we got entirely over our repugnance to turkey years ago, and we made a full meal following out the instructions of the President of the United States of America and of the Governor of the State of Kansas and the rulers of the Kansas State Soldiers Home.

[The people of the Soldiers' Home had as good a thanksgiving dinner as had anywhere in the west.]

WILBURN SOCIETY.

On last Friday evening the young people of the Wilburn vicinity enjoyed a rare treat in the form of a social given by Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, in honor of Miss Dillon. It was a complete success in all which the word implies. Among the guests present were Mrs. Webb and daughters, the Misses Bunyan and Miss Wright of Dodge City, Mr. and Mrs. Bunyan and Mr. Krikel of Fowler, and thirteen couple of the Wilburn young folks.

The kind hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby has left a lasting impression on the minds of the young people, and words are inadequate to express our sincere thankfulness for the good time we enjoyed. And may she in whose honor the occasion was given reap many happy returns of the pleasure she rendered to those present, through her kind attention. Miss Dillon, though a stranger among us, is greatly admired by all who have had the pleasure of meeting her. The evening was devoted to games of interest and amusement, after which a dainty luncheon was served. While it did not last as long as the feast of Belshazzar it was quite equal. At 3 o'clock in the morning the merry crowd of young folks started for home, regretting that man did not have the power to stay time when pleasure reigned supreme. S.

About a Missing Man.

Mayor Summersby has received a letter from Mrs. E. B. Gibson, of Alexandria, Minn., making inquiry of her husband, Robert B. Gibson, who left Winslow, Arizona, for Dodge City, with a stock train a short time ago. Mrs. Gibson writes that she has a family of small children and is in destitute circumstances. She says it was reported that her husband was killed in a railroad accident. He intended going home after reaching this city. Mrs. Gibson will be thankful for any information concerning her husband.

The revival meetings which were held in the Baptist church for a few weeks closed on Friday night last. The meetings were well attended and resulted in a number of conversions. About a dozen joined the church by letter. Revs. Robinson and Thompson are to be congratulated for the part they took in the meetings. About fifty persons have been admitted to membership in the Baptist churches of Meade and Dodge City, under Rev. Robinson's charge. At the Baptist state convention Mr. Robinson's work showed up as favorably as any charge in the state.

On the Subject of War.

DODGE CITY, KAN., Dec. 1, 1899.

HON. M. W. SUTTON: Recently I had the good luck to be within range of a private conversation by you on the general subject of war, extending into details, particulars, criticisms and comparisons, embracing more particularly the civil war and our latest war, and your remarks along all lines were, to me, of such a high degree of entertaining didactic that the thought occurs to invite you, in behalf of this community, to deliver, at your convenience, a discourse to the public, embodying the highly entertaining topics to which I have referred above.

Very respectfully,
J. C. BAIRD.

The drinker who takes the Keeley cure and after a time resumes the drinking habit again is in more danger of physical collapse than the steady drinker, for physiological reasons. The Keeley cure leaves the system in the condition the body was before the drinking began. The drinker gets into the drinking habit by degrees, and the poison gradually works into the system. When the Keeley cured inebriate resumes drinking again he begins where he left off, and he indulges in liquor with his old time passion, and in consequence the body is terribly wrecked. The "cure" does not leave the body in any weak condition. It is the absence of the alcoholic stimulant that renders the body weak and the mind listless. During a long course of abstinence the body may partially recover its former vigor.

Stomach's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. Mrs. John S. Rush, assisted by Mrs. C. M. Beeson, entertained about 50 young people at the home of Mrs. Rush, on Friday night last in honor of Miss Alice Watson, niece of Mr. Rush, who will soon leave for her home in Winchester, Ind. A very nice time was spent. The banquet was enjoyed, and all present were pleased.

The song and praise service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, as a devotional feature of religious worship, was of superlative merit.

The grandest songs the inspiration of Christianity has ever produced were vocally interpreted. Possibly some minds might be deflected from the song subject by the superior vocal excellence of such a choir, but they would be few. The choir consists of Miss Pilgrim, Mrs. Hubbard, soprano; Mrs. Villipigne, Mrs. Westwood, alto; P. H. Young, Rev. Westwood, tenor; Chas. Milton, S. J. Crambine, bass; Eleanor Milton, organist.

The song exercises by this choir is to be made a leading feature of every Sunday evening service.

Election of officers A. O. U. W., as follows:

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Coughs, Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—ADOLPH L. MILLER, Manchester, N. H. For sale by W. S. Ames.
